

Planning stages	Planning actions	Additional action items
	 Give notices to Webmaster for posting. Finalize flyers. Confirm work schedules and tasks for allies, volunteers and staff who will help during the event.
	 Print out Active Aging Week posters. Organize the people who will hang posters and distribute flyers.
	 Confirm Active Aging Week activities with other departments. Inform maintenance and housekeeping staff. Send email about events. Prepare talking points for exercise instructors, personal trainers and activities staff to announce the Week's activities.
	 Display the events on the bulletin board and announce again on social media, Prepare posters and signs. Double check that events information is in newsletter. Double check room and space reservations. Confirm all speakers and room arrangements.
	 Update voice mail blurbs to remind callers of the events. Send out a second email. Check that posters and flyers are in place; hang them in dining areas, multipurpose rooms and other nonfitness locations.

Active Aging Week planning checklist
Due dates	Planning actions	Additional action items
	 Organize a planning committee. Form your vision for the week. Establish budget. Inform key people in the organization about Active Aging Week.
	 Identify target audience: who will attend the event(s)? Finalize list of potential events. Invite speakers or organizations to participate. Reserve rooms and check for schedule conflicts.
	 Inform managers and staff of the event activities. Check on due dates to advertise the events in the organization's newsletters and other outside sources. Visit Active Aging Week website for promotional and educational materials.
	 Finalize negotiations with speakers or organizations that will present. Determine marketing pieces needed.
	 Register as host site on www.activeagingweek. com Draft the flyers and notices for the website, newsletters and social media. Mail press release to local papers, television and radio stations.

Due dates	Planning actions	Additional action items
	 Print out certificates of participation from the Active Aging Week website to distribute to participants. Review week's events with team. Answer questions.
	Prepare and duplicate feedback forms to distribute to participants.
	 Tabulate feedback forms. Conduct a follow-up with the planning committee to discuss what worked well and what didn't for next year's events. Mail a thank you to your volunteer staff. Submit the results of your activities to ICAA. 	